Dear Parents and Carers

From Monday we will be starting a programme of lessons with live interactivity for most subjects in years 7 to 9. These live events will not allow the sharing of students' images, via their camera nor will it allow the sharing of audio, via their microphone. We have put in these conditions as we are aiming to make this provision available for as many as possible. The lessons will have varying formats, all of which will have a teacher at the end of a computer at that time to answer students live questions, for some it may include live audio and/or video content.

To deliver this we have created a common timetable of when students should log into their Google classroom to access the lesson. We have tried to space out the lessons as best as possible and we would recommend students are online ten minutes before the scheduled start time. The lessons will be shown via Microsoft Teams but students should access this by following the link in their Google Classroom for the relevant subject. Students must not record, share or take screen shots of teachers during the lessons. Please be patient as we trial this format of delivery and thank you for your support.

Yours faithfully

Mr Shenton
